

I would like to express my feeling that a proposal to increase a Morse Code requirement for Amateur Radio Licensing is ill advised. Morse Code requirements have already been dropped by other countries. Requirements to perpetuate Morse Code will continue to cause many potential candidates that would otherwise be interested in Amateur Radio to have second thoughts. We should continue to move forward without taking backward steps.

Thank you,
David Hansen
ND7H